In-Text Citations

To cite quotes and paraphrases in text use these formats:

Basic Format: (Author page number).

- Example: Romantic poetry is characterized by the "spontaneous overflow of powerful feelings" (Wordsworth 263).

Two authors

- Example: It has been suggested that "meditation is an often overlooked but powerful option for dispute resolution in health care" (Tompkins and Benson 36).

Three or more Authors

- Example: There are many theories about the Bermuda Triangle, "a magnetic irregularity that interferes with compasses, a plot by the government or some foreign power, a spatiotemporal hole, extraterrestrial activity, the influence of the mythical lost civilization of Atlantis..." (Le Carrer et al. 152).

Author stated in sentence

- Example: Wordsworth extensively explored the role of emotion in the creative process (263).
- Example: Wordsworth stated that Romantic poetry was marked by a "spontaneous overflow of powerful feelings" (263).

No known author

- Use the title instead.
- Example: We see so many global warming hotspots in North America likely because this region has "more readily accessible climatic data and more comprehensive programs to monitor and study environmental change . . ." ("Impact of Global Warming" 6).

No page number

- Just don't include it.
- Example: Kamal points out that, "...in a genre where women are often circumscribed within limited roles, Brooklyn Nine-Nine fluidly embraces the many dimensions of its female characters."
