BANNED BOOKS WEEK

OCT. 1ST - OCT. 7TH

The American Library Association's theme for Banned Books Week 2023 is
"Let Freedom Read!"

Banned Books Week is an annual celebration of the freedom to read granted by the First Amendment of the United States Constitution. It was created in 1982.

Most challenges in 2022 were to books featuring LGBTQIA+ or POC characters or content. Book banning is currently at an all time high in the United States, with academic libraries being especially targeted all over the country.

UNDOCUMENTED STUDENT ACTION WEEK

OCTOBER 16 - 20

The Undocumented Americans by Karla Cornejo Villavicencio

One of the first undocumented immigrants to graduate from Harvard reveals the hidden lives of her fellow undocumented Americans in this deeply personal and groundbreaking portrait of a nation.

Short Documentary

I Was Born in Mexico, But...

Growing Up Undocumented in America

A poetic short featuring the voice of an undocumented young Latina woman who was brought to the U.S. as a child. The film introduces viewers to a personal voice on the immigration debate: DACA, the Dream Act, and other immigration reform, speaking about what it's like to grow up and face an uncertain future as a young undocumented person in America.

Diary of a Reluctant Dreamer

by Alberto Ledesma

In this hybrid memoir, wonders, At what point does a long-time undocumented immigrant become an American in the making?

NATIONAL COMING OUT DAY

October 11

When I Knew

When I Knew asks one simple question: when did you know that you're gay?

The Magic Fish

by Trung Le Nguyen

It's hard enough trying to communicate with your parents as a kid, but for Tiến, he doesn't even have the right words because his parents are struggling with their English. Is there a Vietnamese word for what he's going through? Is there a way to tell them he's gay?
