

Highlights

- At Career Café, students joined Cañada faculty and staff over pan dulce to discuss career paths, building valuable professional connections in a welcoming environment.
- The campus community celebrated Black history through zine-making, using DIY storytelling and collage as tools for expression and resistance, highlighting the legacy of self-publishing.
- Cañada's Outreach team, International Student Center and S.T.A.R. program celebrated Lunar New Year in Redwood City, sharing resources and engaging the community for the Year of the Horse.
- Beta Zeta Nu hosted KPMG leaders for a career panel, drawing 100+ students. Experts shared professional insights and pathways into global business, accounting and technology.
- Cañada College faculty were honored for a decade of service at the Puente Conference. Student Lupita Segura and alumna-turned-counselor Sandra Mendez shared inspiring personal journeys.

Celebrating the New Umoja Village

Cañada celebrated the opening of the new Umoja Village in Building 3, Room 103. The atmosphere was warm and rooted in community, honoring Umoja's mission of culture, belonging and student success. Designed with Pan-African colors, the space supports students at every step of their journey. Umoja remains a vital sanctuary where Black students are supported and seen, while welcoming all students seeking connection, guidance and a deep sense of home on campus.

Inspiring Future Voices: A Day of Leadership and Culture

Cañada College joined the Bay Area Community Health Advisory Council (BACHAC) and Black Youth Advisory Board (BYAB) to welcome more than 200 youth, parents and community members to the first-ever Black Student Leadership Conference of San Mateo County.
