

How to complete Title IX Rights and Protections Training

Go to: <https://smccdstudents-keenan.safecolleges.com/>

Or scan the QR code

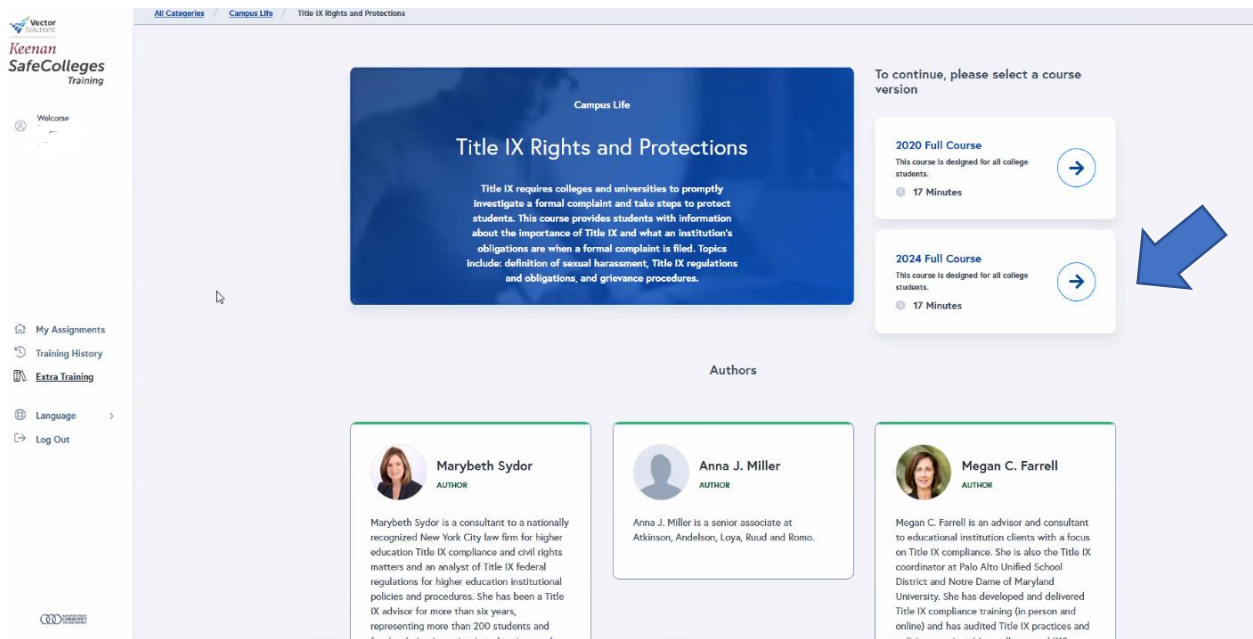

Select – Extra Training- Type on the search bar – Title IX Rights and Protections

The screenshot shows the Keenan SafeColleges Training interface. On the left, a sidebar contains links: My Assignments, Training History, Extra Training, Language, and Log Out. A blue arrow points to 'Extra Training'. The main area is titled 'Extra Training' and contains a search bar. A blue arrow points from the search bar to a search result for 'Title IX Rights and Protections' under the 'Campus Life' category. The result shows '1 Course' and an 'End of list' button.

Select the “2024 Full course”

The screenshot shows the 'Title IX Rights and Protections' course page. The page has a blue header with the title and a description: 'Title IX requires colleges and universities to promptly investigate a formal complaint and take steps to protect students. This course provides students with information about the importance of Title IX and what an institution's obligations are when a formal complaint is filed. Topics include: definition of sexual harassment, Title IX regulations and obligations, and grievance procedures.' Below the header, there are two course options: '2020 Full Course' and '2024 Full Course'. A blue arrow points to the '2024 Full Course' option. Below the course options, there is a section for 'Authors' featuring three authors: Marybeth Sydor, Anna J. Miller, and Megan C. Farrell. Each author has a profile picture, name, and a brief bio.

Complete all sections of the course. At the end, you will be asked questions based on the course material. Be sure to answer them, you will receive a certificate as proof of completing the training.
